SIXTY-SIX PLUNGE TO DEATH IN WATERY GRAVE.

Horrible Catastrophe on Traction Line Near Atlantic City on Sunday.

SEVERAL MEN PROVE HEROES.

Sixty-six persons dead, and two scores injured, is the estimate this morning of fatalities in yesterday's electric railway horror. Most of the dead are still buried in the submerged cars. It is impossible to give an accurate list until the bodies are removed by divers. All night by light electric globes men toiled to get out bodies of the victims. The coaches by force of the fall from the trestle, sunk deep into the mud at the bottom of the stream.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 29.—Fifty seven passengers on the West Jersey and Coast Electric railroad were hurled to a watery grave Sunday afternoon when the entire train plunged from a trestle over the "Thorofare," a body of water separating Atlantic City from the mainland.

The train, composed of three cars well filled with mostly women and children fell 15 feet and was almost instantly submerged in 20 feet of water.

There were about 80 passengers on the train and many escaped through the heroic actions of some of the train crew and passengers. Nearly all of those who escaped were more or less seriously injured and are suffering greatly from shock.

Outside Rail "Turned In."

The accident was due to a rail "turning in." The rail, which was an outside one, was on the right hand side coming down and must have been out of plumb about an eighth of an inch. The sharp flange of the electric train caught this and twisted it inward.

The first two coaches sank quickly in 20 feet of water.

RABBI LOVITCH

WILL ADDRESS PUPILS OF THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Science Department Is Popular With Pupils—Sanitary Inspection Promised.

Rabbi D. Lovitch, of Temple Israel, has been secured to address the pupils in the High school tomorrow morning. He is an eloquent, forceful speaker, and the pupils are looking forward to the address with much pleasure.

The work of the science class is progressing and members of the faculty think favorably of giving a demonstration as soon as the members of the class progress far enough with experiments. This is one new feature which has proven a success from the start.

Supt. C. M. Lieb today will investigate the sanitary conditions at the Jefferson street building, Eighth and Harrison streets, where it is reported bad. There are many ways to remedy the defect, and action will be taken at once.

OPEN HOUSE

WILL BE KEPT BY PADUCAH LODGE OF ELKS TOMORROW.

Ladies Will Be Received in the Afternoon and Gentlemen at Night.

Open house will be kept by the Paducah lodge of Elks in their new home on North Fifth street tomorrow afternoon and evening. Between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock the ladies will be entertained. Between the hours of 7:30 and 11 o'clock ladies and gentlemen will be welcome. Children accompanied by their parents will be admitted. A register will be kept in the lobby. It is hoped that every guest will register.

Fine Dogs Stolen.

Messrs. Pendall Burnett and James Nagel, sportsmen, reported the losses of their fine bird dogs. Both gentlemen reside on North Fifth street and it is thought that the same thieves got both dogs.

Frank Vick reports the loss of his bicycle at Fourth street and Broadway Saturday night, and Prof. C. A. Norvell reports the loss of his son's wheel from the residence, 1719 Madison street.

CRIME RAMPANT IM CITY STREETS

Three Men Held Up And Robbed Saturday Night.

Dogs and Bicycles Stolen From Residences and Clothing Snatched by Thief.

BOY STABBED BY COMPANION

Highway robbers, fighters, housebreakers, bicycle thieves, package snatchers and horse thieves have been keeping the police busy for several days, and Sunday night the carnival of crime seemed to reach its climax, when three highway robberies were committed, one young man badly stabbed and several horses, wheels and dogs reported missing.

Jim Hildreth and James W. Barksdale were held up and robbed. The last reported was John M. Hestands, a boilermaker at the Fowler-Wolf sheet iron and metal works.

Hildreth was arrested by a bogus detective and $7 was taken from him. Barksdale was held by two negroes with a pistol, searched and robbed of his cash. Hestands evidently met the same two negroes who caught him going home to Third and Jackson streets Saturday night and robbed him of his gold watch at the point of a pistol.

Serious Stabbing.

Willie Watson, of 122 Clements street, aged 18 years, engaged in a difficulty with a stranger in the Daisy Allen resort on Kentucky avenue and was stabbed in the back. He was taken home and the stranger escaped. He is suspected of being a young man living on North Eighth street, but the police have taken no action.

John Cook, a young man of Benton, is alleged to have snatched a bundle of clothes from Finas Hawkins, of Gilbertsville, at the Illinois Central depot Saturday afternoon, caught the Benton train, and escaped. At Benton the sheriff got him and Hawkins went down to compromise the matter. The police did not want to bring a petit larceny prisoner back to Paducah.

Inquiries disclosed the same state of affairs in other Beckham counties. Locally there is not enough fight or what there is they need in the city contests. The committee declined to make up the deficiency in the primary fund by home contributions and so informed the state committee.

There was "nothing doing" but a representative was sent to Louisville the latter part of the week, and just as the committee was preparing to explode a lively scandal in the manipulation of the state Democratic committee, the check for the $600 arrived.

HUSBAND ILL

WIFE PASSES AWAY WITH A STROKE OF PARALYSIS.

Mrs. G. W. Elrod Dies Early Sunday and Is Buried This Morning in Family Lot.

Mrs. Lizzie Elrod, wife of G. W. (Bud) Elrod of Massac, Ky., a few miles southwest of Paducah, died Sunday morning of paralysis and the funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence. The burial was in the family cemetery. Her death was sudden, she being found in a semi-conscious condition at 3 o'clock Sunday morning. She was never awakened. Dr. G. A. Hamlett attended her.

The doctor was at the house to see Mrs. Elrod, who was ill. Mrs. Elrod sustained a shock shortly after midnight.

The deceased was born in this county 56 years ago. She was first married to Charles Humphreys who died several years ago. She married her present husband about three years ago. She leaves a husband and eight children. The children are Mrs. Sam Miles, Paducah; Miss Nina Humphreys, George and Finas Humphreys of Massac, and Will Humphreys of Bandana and two small children.

The funeral was held this morning at 11 o'clock burial in the family burying ground. Mr. Elrod was unable to attend the services.

For Bootlegging.

Dill Dowdy and Frank Alexander were arrested early this morning in Graves county by Wade Brown, deputy United States marshal, on the charge of bootlegging. They were presented before the United States commissioner this afternoon.

Council Meets Tonight.

Mayor Eisler has called a joint session of the general council for tonight to act on the sale of the Nineteenth street franchise to the Paducah Traction company.

MURPHY'S ULTIMATUM ABOUT PRISON SUIT PICTURE IS ISSUED.

New York, Oct. 29.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, has decided that pictures of himself in stripes is getting to be an old story, and has given notice through his attorney that henceforth any newspaper depicting him in prison stripes will have to answer the charge of libel. The ultimatum becomes effective today.

CALLED BLUFF OF STATE COMMITTEE

Primary Fund Arrives In Paducah, So It Is Said.

Beckham Men Charge That McCracken Faction Is Manipulating the Money.

SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS HERE

It was a cool call the local Democratic committee made on the state committee last week and the latter organization came across with $600 for the state primary in McCracken county.

What is claimed by Beckham followers to be a scheme on the part of the McCracken men in the state committee to block the primary in counties known to be for Beckham, was disclosed by the local men, and probably other counties in the state will follow suit.

McCracken seems to be conceded to the governor and estimates of the expense of the primary were sent to the state committee a long while ago. It was figured at $600. It is stated that a small portion of this sum was sent here, but repeated demands for more were ignored by Chairman M. T. Ayres. At least, this is the claim made by the Beckham men.

Inquiries disclosed the same state of affairs in other Beckham counties. Locally there is not enough fight or what there is they need in the city contests. The committee declined to make up the deficiency in the primary fund by home contributions and so informed the state committee.

There was "nothing doing" but a representative was sent to Louisville the latter part of the week, and just as the committee was preparing to explode a lively scandal in the manipulation of the state Democratic committee, the check for the $600 arrived.

HORSES TUMBLE

DOWN EMBANKMENT AT CALDWELL STREET FILL.

Wagon Pulls Them Over and the Team Rolls Over and Over to the Bottom.

A team of fine gray draft horses owned by Mike Iseman and driven by Henry Bell, colored, went over the east side of the new Caldwell street fill near the Illinois Central depot, and one horse was crippled in the hind leg. The driver backed the automatic dump wagon too near the edge of the fill, and dumped the load. The horses were unable to go over it and the wagon gradually pulled them back until they rolled down the hill. The wagon did not fall on them fortunately, but one horse fell and jammed its leg against a board. The soft dirt saved the animals from probable fatal injuries.

POLAR EXPLORER HEARD FROM.

Unexpected Progress Being Made by Mikkelson-Leffingwell Expedition.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 29.—Unexpectedly good progress is being made by the Mikkelson-Leffingwell polar expedition, which left here on May 20 in the schooner Duchess of Bedford to locate a new continent believed to exist in the mysterious Beaufort Sea, westward of Banks island. Letters from the explorers dated July 25 have been received here. They state that Point Hope, originally intended as this winter's base, had been reached two months ahead of the program. From Point Hope to Minto Inlet, Prince Albert Land, is less than a thousand miles of open water, which the schooner could cover in a fortnight, and she had two months of favorable weather in which to do it. The crucial event of the expedition is due in February, when the party will make westward across the ice pack for the unknown land. If this land be found a new route to the pole will have been attained.

Engine Rolled Down Bank.

Waynesburg, O., Oct. 29.—An engine and freight train on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh road, jumped the track this morning and rolled over an embankment. Thirteen cars were wrecked. Engineer Hamilton was crushed to death under the engine. A brakeman was pinned in the cab and badly scalded.

Hundreds of Bodies Recovered.

Tokio, Oct. 29.—The disaster of the pearl and Bonito fishing fleet off the south of Kiushiu in the recent storm proves even greater than was feared at first. Most of the 35 vessels in the fleet were lost and 500 bodies have already been recovered.

IF STREET WORK CITY SHOULD PAY

Opinion of Alderman Miller on Storm Sewers.

City Will Not Undertake Ex Parte Proceedings Because Cost is Nominal.

WILL HOLD ON TO TAX MONEY.

"If the storm water sewers are considered as street improvements, then the city should bear half the expense of constructing them," said Alderman W. T. Miller this morning.

He will insist on this view of the matter at the meeting of the board of aldermen one week from Thursday night, when the finance committee reports on the new storm water sewers.

The pipes are laid under recently improved streets and their construction was carried on in connection with the regular street work. They are comparatively cheap and are merely designed to carry off accumulations of water. The level surface of Paducah makes surface drainage impracticable and these drains are built as substitutes.

They are not looked upon as sewers in the sense sanitary sewers are, and are not nearly so expensive.

The committee also decided not to bring ex parte proceedings to determine whether the city or property owners should bear the expense. The only opposition to the payment comes from those who have been misled by false reports of the cost and confusion with the larger sewer project in district No. 2. The cost is nominal and not worth fighting over.

Will Retain the Money.

The finance committee has decided not to acquiesce in the demand of the Ayer-Lord Tie company for a refund of the $600 paid on its property during the pendency of the suit brought by the state revenue agent. The company claims to have paid it under protest, and states that it pays taxes elsewhere.

INDIAN TRIBES TO BE STUDIED

Expedition Soon to Start for South America.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 29.—The Peabody museum of Harvard university has nearly completed its plans for an important ethnological expedition to South America, and the departure will take place in about two weeks. The trip is to occupy about three years and its object is to collect all possible information about the little known Indian tribes on the eastern side of the Andes Mountains. The funds have been provided by a recent Harvard graduate. The members of the party will be Dr. W. C. Farabee, instructor in anthropology, who will be the leader and chief scientist of the expedition, and two assistants Louis J. de Milian, 1906, and J. W. Hastings, 1905. Headquarters for the work will be at Arequipa, Peru, from which trips will be made among the neighboring Indian tribes.

HELD UP BY TWO MEN.

James W. Barksdale Relieved of His Valuables.

James W. Barksdale, of the Barksdale Brothers Furniture company, Third street and Kentucky avenue, was held up at Tenth and Jefferson streets Saturday evening shortly after dusk. Two negroes asked Barksdale to change a dollar for him and when he counted his change and looked up, found himself staring into the muzzle of a pistol. He was backed against the fence and his clothes searched. Between $6 and $7 were secured.

Otega Tribe Pays Honor To Memory of Its Dead.

Beautiful Eulogy Pronounced by Attorney J. C. Ross at Broadway Church.

PROGRAM OF THE OCCASION

One of the most beautiful and impressive memorial services ever held in Paducah was that of Otega Tribe, No. 60, of Red Men, at the Broadway Methodist church Sunday afternoon. The service began at 3 o'clock conducted by Mr. L. L. Beabout.

The order of service was carried out perfectly and the eulogy by Mrs. S. H. Winstead at the organ was a fitting beginning. The ritual was next and the Rev. T. J. Newell's invocation was followed by a hymn.

Attorney J. C. Ross delivered the eulogy. He is a forceful speaker. He paid a beautiful tribute to the dead of the tribe. They are: Jake Folz, Elihu Harris, James F. Crow, Wade F. Short and William Winston.

Mr. Robert Scott sang "O, Dry Those Tears," with effect.

A quartette sang "Like As A Father Pitieh His Children."

Attorney Alben Barkley in a short address discussed the endeavors and purposes of the organization. He defended the Red Man whose land had been taken from him, and stated the order was to perpetuate the virtues of a race that was rapidly becoming extinct.

Miss Emma Knauss, of Evansville, sang a solo, "Angel Serenade," and Mrs. Will Clark played a violin obbligato. It was one of the features of the program.

Following the ritual, the choir, tribe and congregation joined in a hymn and the Rev. Calvin Thompson's benediction closed the service.

The church was crowded with friends of the honored dead and of the tribe.

A Napoleon Story.

The London Tribune relates what it says is a fine anecdote illustrating the lighter side of Napoleon's character. It comes from an old lady who knew the daughters of Sir Hudson Lowe. The Misses Lowe were young girls at the time of Napoleon's imprisonment at St. Helena, and were sometimes admitted to his presence, when he would chat pleasantly with them. On one or two occasions, when in a specially good humor, he drew his sword, and gallantly presenting it to one of the girls, said: "Now, young lady, is your chance; you have to kill the Corsican ogre!" He would then throw himself into position and defend himself with his walking stick. Whether from nervousness or sheer maladroit, no hit was ever made, and the great man would then smile, and say, condescendingly: "Well, ladies, you can now boast that you have fenced with the great Napoleon."

Not a National Disease.

The common statement that dyspepsia is the national disease has nothing to sustain it. In the average collection of people about a table men and women will be observed to be eating what pleases them. They do this without sign of pain or even discomfort. Here and there is a dyspeptic devoted much to the pampering of a stomach made poor not through indulgence in ordinary wholesome foods but from eating too much or too little or at irregular intervals. He is welcome to all the pampering that may be necessary, but it is fair that he dismiss the notion that the collective stomachs of a generation are his especial care.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Substitute.

Little Helen, 4 years old, was in dreadful predicament. The nurse, carrying the cherished two-weeks-old baby up and down before the house, had paused to show the new infant to the bishop, who had asked to look at it. And then the tall, grave bishop, of whom Helen stood greatly in awe, had unexpectedly asked the little girl to give him the baby.

How in the world to refuse a request made by such an awe-inspiring person as the bishop? The child did not know. But presently she wrinkled her small countenance shrewdly moved closer to the petitioner, and said, ingratiatingly: "I'll let you have the next."—Harper's Weekly.

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful creative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until today Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice and there were thousands—received careful study, and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With women assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health," freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

With only one whole week remaining before the election, the campaign managers have turned their principal attention from the issues to the practical work of getting out the vote. At this time the people generally have made up their minds as to whom they favor for governor. The state outside the city of Greater New York has been canvassed, and the leaders know approximately what is to be expected north of the Harlem river. If all the voters go to the polls. There still is a combination of mystery and doubt regarding the vote of New York and Kings county, but both the mystery and the doubt are inimical to the political fortunes of Mr. Hearst.

A little more than three weeks ago the word "go" was given and Mr. Hughes, the Republican candidate, entered the race by no means a favorite with the politicians, despite the fact that the Wall street betting odds were in his favor. Hearst took the lead in a spurt of enthusiasm, and at various intervals since he has maintained his prestige for a few days at a time. Hughes, however, has been the steady, unfaltering figure in the contest, constantly pushing his advantage, until now he has put a good sized gap between himself and his opponent and looms up as a sure winner unless some unforeseen accident befalls before he reaches the home stretch.

His Lingerie.
(New York Press.)

A bright young fellow from the west, rich to the verge of villainy, returned from a two years' course of study in Heidelberg and Paris the other day, and was put up at a swell New York club. His departure from our city was hastened by a telegram from Chicago, and he had to leave some of his wash behind. Yesterday a group of the club loungers were enjoying the contents of a brief note sent to the young man's sponsor. It being too good to keep, the host passed the missive along the line:

"My Dear Old Man—When the laundryman returns will you please be good enough to take personal charge of my lingerie? Some of it is real lace. The pink suit (undershirt and drawers) is genuine silk Honiton, costing me the ridiculous sum of $99. The Gobelin blue suit is real Cluny. You will recognize it by the figures of the amplosaurs of the Pliocene Period. Cost me $125. I was stupid to let an ordinary washman or washwoman have these fabrics to ruin. Then there are, among other things, seven pairs of stockings made of pure Millecourt, worth $17 a pair. Naturally, I shouldn't care to lose these things. Have the janitor express all the lingerie to me at ——. Would do the same for you on a pinch."

Unfortunately Put.

"I had the good luck to be invited to dine with the king at Marlborough house when I was in London in June," said a western millionaire.

"Lord Knollys said in his reply: 'As no ladies are to be present, trousers may be worn.'

"When I first read that sentence I said to myself:

"What kind of Neronic revels go on at Marlborough house, anyway?"

"Afterwards, though, I learned that Lord Knollys only meant that at mixed dinners knee breeches were worn at Marlborough house, at stag ones the ordinary evening suit suffice."

MR. DOOLEY'S TALK.*NUMBERING CARS
OF PENNSYLVANIA*Confusion Now Exists All Over
The Great System.

Will Require Year to Complete the Gigantic Task Now Under-taken.

WHERE TROUBLE COMES IN

To add to the moving and taking care of its cars, which now number a quarter of a million, the Pennsylvania railroad is having them all numbered. It is a gigantic task, one that will require a full year's labor, but when the work is done there will be none of the confusion which has frequently brought grief to the Pennsylvania's car record office and to the car accountants of other roads.

Troubles arose from the fact that every one of the individual companies which go to make up the Pennsylvania system had its own car numbers. In addition to that, the similarity of the legends, "Pennsylvania" and "Pennsylvania Company," often caused one name to be reported when the other should have been. In the system there might be eight or ten cars with the same number, and if the small initials of individual ownership were left out of a report there was no way of telling what car was really meant.

To the passenger cars belonging to the lines east of Pittsburgh are given the numbers 1 to 1,700 and to those belonging to the lines west of Pittsburgh the numbers 7,001 to 10,000. The freight cars are numbered from 10,001 to 500,000 on the eastern lines and from 500,001 to 999,999 on the western lines.

To make the task as easy as possible it was arranged that the largest ownership, namely, the Pennsylvania railroad proper, should carry the lower numbers. This would fall into the proper class without having to be renumbered.

The cars are to be repainted, too, but that is, of necessity, much slower work than the renumbering. There are comparatively few places where it can be done, while new numbers can be put on at pretty nearly any station where there is a small paint shop. When the repainting is done every car on the eastern lines will have the word "Pennsylvania" on one side, above the number, and the letters "P. R. R." on the end. On the western lines "Pennsylvania Lines" will be the legend for the side of a car and "P. L." for the end.

TEARING UP THE STREETS.

The board of public works gave permission to "The Home Telephone company to tear up the brick street at the intersection of Fifth and Jefferson streets," to the "Paducah Gas company to tear up the brick street in front of the Elks' Home," and "To the Paducah Traction company to tear up and open the bitumic street in front of the postoffice where its double track now ends."

After two whole days spent in chewing the rubber off the end of a lead pencil, that is the best argument offered in answer to The Sun's statement, that no reasonable advocate of municipal ownership desires to build a new water plant and tear up the streets of the city to lay pipes where pipes already lie. Characteristically enough, the reply does not say anything about the fact, that the companies which are granted the permits execute bonds to replace the streets in as good condition as before they were torn up. But, regardless of that important oversight, consider the utter stupidity of the comparison between unnecessarily tearing up all the streets of Paducah and public service corporations tearing up a longitudinal section of a street a block long at most.

In order for the city to build its own water plant it would be necessary to dig a trench through the center of every street in the city from the northern extremity of Rowlandtown to the southern limits of Mechanicsburg; from the Ohio river to the western borders. Not only would these trenches be dug for mains but lateral trenches from the mains into nearly every dooryard in Paducah would have to be dug. It is conservative to say that $500,000 would not cover the damage done to the streets alone, not to mention the cost of labor in digging the trenches and rebuilding the streets, the cost of pipe and the price of the water plant itself.

Streets now graveled and serviceable would be a succession of lateral ridges about 30 feet apart with a longitudinal ridge down the middle, and nothing but paving could ever repair them.

Constructing a new municipal water plant and laying city pipes would cost a half million dollars more than purchasing the Paducah Water company's plant at its own price. The contract to be voted on provides for purchase by the city at any time the city desires. The contract is published in The Sun. Read its terms. They speak for themselves, and they are published under authority of the city.

Alderman Miller did carry to Frankfort a bill creating a board of park commissioners for cities of the second class, but Alderman Miller did not carry to Frankfort a bill "requiring second class cities to spend thousands of dollars for parks," and the person that made the latter statement knew it at the time, and even in correcting his first statement carefully veiled the truth. Alderman Miller's bill created a board of park commissioners. The bill was drawn at the instance of Lexington officials, as Mayor Yelser will state. Alderman Miller had it prepared so as to protect Paducah which must necessarily be affected by it, and his measure provided that the general council might, at its option appropriate so much money each year for park purposes as its members should see fit. The law that was enacted by the Democratic legislature fixed an arbitrary appropriation of 5 cents on the $100 annually for park purposes, and that is the measure, "requiring second class cities to spend thousands of dollars," a very different thing from what Alderman Miller "carried to Frankfort." Now listen to the explanation made by the author of the falsehood: "One feature of the bill being changed by the legislative committee after he left Frankfort." Since that changed feature in the bill, as enacted, relieves the charge against Alderman Miller of any resemblance to the truth, in common decency it deserves more elaboration. Alderman Miller has offered the provisions of his bill to be published in parallel columns with the provisions of the law, as enacted; but we doubt if this will be done, as it is not compatible with the spirit in which this bill of mendacity was conceived. Sly perversion of facts is more despicable than falsehood of the whole cloth, because less easily exposed.

Personally appeared before me, this October 1, 1906, E. J. Paxton, general manager of The Sun, who affirms that the above statement of the circulation of The Sun for the month of September, 1906, is true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

WALTER PURYEAR, Notary Public.

My commission expires January 22, 1908.

Give us the police judge and we care not who dominates the police department," is the motto of the powers of evil. Conscientious administration of the office of police magistrate will save the people thousands of dollars annually in the cost of criminal prosecutions in that court and the criminal court will protect the lives and property of citizens; will insure prompt obedience to the law, and will reduce the necessity of close police surveillance fifty percent.

E. W. Bagby is a conscientious, conservative man with no foibles. He has no disposition to persecute any one; just a natural leaning toward justice and fair play.

Remember, in voting for the park construction bonds you are voting for a park in your own ward, to be constructed in two years instead of ten or twenty years, when property advances; and you are voting for something for your enjoyment and that of your children without increasing the tax rate one cent, or interfering with any possible future bond issue the city may desire. Not only will you not increase the tax rate by voting the bonds, but your negative vote will not increase the possibility of a reduction in the rate, since the legislature has seen fit to fix the levy for park purposes. Let's be for Paducah.

We cannot but suspect that Governor Beckham, with design, badgered "Mahse Henry" Watterson into openly attacking him. Observe what a big crowd flocked to his meeting at Owensboro the next day to hear what the governor would say in reply, and note the columns of pure reading matter devoted to his speech in all the state papers. Even the anti-administration papers were compelled to publish Beckham arguments in order to gratify their readers' desire to keep up with the fight. "Pears like 'Mahse Henry'" advertised the governor pretty well.

We are surprised to learn through the columns of a local paper that some of the city and county Democratic officials are going to support the Democratic municipal ticket, at least, as far as public expression is concerned. The candidates themselves should now be interviewed. Mayhap, some of them are going to vote the ticket.

You elected the present general council as a protest to ring rule. Not a breath of scandal, nothing but praise for honesty and business acumen has been heard concerning its work. At the election next week express your approval or disapproval of its course.

This is the open season for unsportsmanlike sportsmen, and Capt. T. J. Moore is a mighty hunter of men. We opine he will bag a few poachers ere the season is far advanced.

Official Inspection.

The annual inspection by division officials of the Illinois Central road is being made on the Louisville division today, the train leaving Paducah at 10 o'clock this morning for Louisville. The inspection train was made up of eight coaches carrying one special car for securing levels, depressions and all defects of the roadbed. Every official on the division is aboard.

STATE ELECTIONS HELD ON TUESDAY

Twenty-Three Governors Will Be Chosen.

How Many Congressional Seats and Senatorial Togas Are at Stake.

PARTIES THAT HAVE TICKETS

New York, Oct. 29.—A week from Tuesday there will be an election in 42 states and three territories. Oregon, Maine and Vermont have already elected state officers and members of the Sixtieth congress. In 23 of the states a governor and other state officers (in 20 of them also a legislature); in ten minor state officers of justices of the supreme court; in two, congressmen and a legislature, and in seven congressmen only, are to be elected. Oklahoma is to vote a state constitution, and Arizona and New Mexico on joint statehood.

The terms of 30 United States senators—15 Democrats and 15 Republicans—expire March 3, 1907. Virginia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Kentucky and Arkansas have already selected Democrats and Georgia has a legislature which will elect another, while Maine and Oregon have legislatures which insure the return of Republicans. Of the 22 states in which it is to be chosen November 6, a legislature that will elect United States senators, 14 are now represented in the senate by Republicans and eight by Democrats.

A national house of representatives is to be elected—the Sixtieth congress with 386 members. The present house is composed of 250 Republicans and 136 Democrats. Maine has already elected four Republicans, Oregon two and Vermont two.

Fusion in One State.

There is fusion in only one state—Nebraska—where the Democrats and Populists agreed upon a division of the state nominations.

As usual there is one state ticket—the Democratic—in South Carolina, Pennsylvania leads this year with the greatest number of state tickets—12. Parties are numerous, those having tickets in the field being, Independence league, Citizens' Commonwealth, City, Referendum, Jefferson, American, Anti-Administration Republican, Reorganized Republican, Lincoln Republican. Six of them however, are confined to Pennsylvania.

The Socialists have tickets in 25 states, the Prohibitionists in 23; Socialist Labor in seven, Populists or Peoples' in four and the Independence League in three, while "Public Ownership" has a ticket in one state.

BELIEVES PEARY AT POLE.

Portland, Me., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Robert E. Peary, wife of the Arctic explorer, who is about to return to her home in Washington, is certain her husband has found the north pole, and will soon be on his way home to tell about it. "I do not expect to hear from him," she said until the last of November, and will not be disappointed if I do not hear from him then. When the expedition started, it was hoped they might return sooner. If my husband has not yet reached the pole, I suppose he is in winter quarters at Cape Hecla, but I have an instinctive feeling that he has achieved the ambition of his life. To my mind there is only one possibility that he will not return alive. The dogs on which he depends to carry him across the frozen country, should they be attacked by the dread dog disease, might die and leave him with no means of transportation."

The Rigors of Cold Weather.

Probably at no time of the year does the physical condition of the body demand more attention than just at this season, the beginning of cold weather.

Let the system be run down, or the blood impoverished to any extent and the cold weather goes hard with you.

Naturally the thing to do is to get the circulation in good order and the whole system toned up to stand the rigors of winter.

Some physicians prescribe the daily cold bath, others seek recourse in blood tonics and other stimulants, but probably the most rational treatment of all is the Osteopathic, as Osteopathy more quickly, and more effectively rights the blood flow and restores normal conditions than any other known treatment.

Osteopathy is only a natural treatment, a method of bloodless surgical manipulations to remove any obstructions interfering with the proper transference of nerve force, or natural blood flow, or the other fluids, to the organ or part involved.

I should like to have you call and let me tell of some Paducah people whom you know well that Osteopathy has done much for, and also to tell you what it will do in your particular case.

THE CHURCHES

The revival in progress at the Tremble street Methodist church is meeting with increased interest and will be continued during the week. The Rev. O. L. Mr. Martin preached three times yesterday, in the morning and evening, and held services at 2:30 in the afternoon.

The Socialists have services in 25 states, the Prohibitionists in 23; Socialist Labor in seven, Populists or Peoples' in four and the Independence League in three, while "Public Ownership" has a ticket in one state.

of That City.

Great Metropolis Continually Confronted With Problem of Transportation.

SOMETHING OF THE SITUATION

London, Oct. 29.—Like other cities, London has its transportation problems, and they are the more serious than elsewhere because of the enormous area and population involved. Greater London now has nearly 7,000,000 people within its limits and includes a solid mass of buildings 30 miles in one direction and 19 miles in the other. There have been great improvements in the local transportation facilities during recent years, due chiefly to American enterprise. The late Charles T. Yerkes reorganized the underground system of railways and brought it up to date, but the increase in population and the demand for transportation seems to become greater and greater every year as if it never would be satisfied.

The dark, dismal, sooty tunnels filled with smoke and smells which Mr. Yerkes found when he came to London are now well ventilated, cheerful passages with plenty of air and light and lined with tile while the cars are brilliantly illuminated. They are finished in rattan and light mahogany and the motive power is electricity, so that they run silently swiftly and smoothly and are as comfortable as underground cars can be. Electric surface cars run by storage batteries and underground and overground trolleys have been introduced in several directions and extend to all the suburbs. They are even laying a track on the Thames embankment, which is desecrated because that should have been retained as a promenade and a drive way. The county council, which is the municipal government of London, is laying the tracks, however, so that nobody can object, and will operate the cars as a belt line between two great systems on the south and the north sides of the Thames.

Bus Drivers.

Notwithstanding the bright, new "tuppenny tubes" with their swift and frequent electric trains, the favorite means of transportation in London is still the old-fashioned omnibus, and I do not think it will ever be superseded. For a man who is alone in a hurry, and especially for one who is fond of human nature and loves to observe the conduct of his fellow men, I do not know any more agreeable means of getting about a crowded city like London than in a seat on the deck of one of these buses. You have a continuous panorama of human affairs passing before you, and can witness it from a elevated platform; and, if you are so fortunate as to get a seat next to the driver, you can enjoy a continuous conversational monologue, an get a great deal of valuable information and philosophy.

There are more than 7,000 buses on the streets of London, running every direction, to every part of the city, at an average fare of 1 cent per mile. There are five big companies and several smaller ones. The largest, the London General Omnibus company, has 1,297 omnibuses on the road and employs 3,500 men and 15,617 horses. In 1905 this company alone carried 215,000,000 passengers; during the first six months of 1906 it carried 108,341,351 and a total of 16,652,150 miles. The receipts for 1905 were $2,002,702, and for the first six months of the current year $1,202,796, an average of $11.55 per omnibus per day. The routes vary from six to ten miles.

Eat Crickets if Too Fat.

(San Francisco News Letter.)
We poke fun at the Chinese ideal of medicine, but events in Sacramento prove that the Mongolians know more than we give them credit for. For centuries the Chinese have used cricket stew, powdered crickets, essence of cricket and plain raw crickets for the reduction of obesity, as they use frog soup for stomach troubles.

Well, in Sacramento it has been noticed that the cats have grown wonderfully thin and had no appetite, refusing to be tempted by cream and other dainties. It has been discovered that they have been feasting on Crickets. The insects have satisfied their appetites, but have reduced them to skeletons. The next thing to be put on the market will be a new patent medicine under the name of "Crickeetine."

"I believe he is in Loango. It is not likely," she went on, "that he will come here. I rather lost my temper with him and said things which I imagine hurt his feelings."

"I'm rather afraid of doing that myself," he said; "only it will not be his feelings."

"Do not think," she replied, "that it would be at all expedient to say or do anything at present. He must go with you to the plateau. Afterward—perhaps."

Oscard laughed quietly.

"Ah," he said, "that sounds like one of Meredithe's propositions. But he does not mean it any more than you do."

"I do mean it," replied Jocelyn quietly. "There is no hatred so complete, so merciless, as the hatred of a woman for one who has wronged the man she loves. At such times women do not pause to give fair play. They make no allowance."

Guy Oscard smiled.

"I think I will go and look for him," he said.

At dusk that same evening there was a singular incident in the barroom of the only hotel in Loango.

Victor Durnovo was there, surrounded by a few friends of antecedents and blood similar to his own. They were having a convivial time of it, and the consumption of whisky was greater than might be deemed discreet in such a climate as that of Loango.

Durnovo was in the act of raising his glass to his lips when the open doorway was darkened and Guy Oscard stood before him. The half breed's jaw dropped; the glass was set down again rather unsteadily on the zinc covered counter.

"I want you," said Oscard.

There was a little pause, an ominous silence, and Victor Durnovo slowly followed Oscard out of the room, leaving that ominous silence behind.

"I leave for Misala tonight," said Oscard when they were outside, "and you are coming with me."

"I see you cursed first!" replied Durnovo, with a courage born of Irish whisky.

Guy Oscard said nothing, but he stretched out his right hand suddenly. His fingers closed in the collar of Victor Durnovo's coat, and that part-colored scion of two races found himself feebly trotting the one street of Loango.

"Le' go!" he gasped.

The hand at his neck neither relinquished nor contracted. When they reached the beach the embarkation of the little army was going forward under Maurice Gordon's supervision. Victor looked at Gordon. He reflected over the trump card held in his hand, but he was too skillful to play it then.

CHAPTER XVI.

IT was nearly dark when the little coast steamer secured by Maurice Gordon for the service turned her prow northward and steamed away.

"The truth is," Durnovo took an early opportunity of saying to Oscard, "that my nerve is no longer up to this work. I should not care to undertake this business alone, despite my reputation on the coast. It is a wonderful thing how closely the nerves are allied to the state of one's health."

"Wonderful!" acquiesced Guy Oscard, with a lack of irony which only made the irony keener.

"I've been too long in this country," exclaimed Durnovo. "That's the fact. I'm not the man I was."

Guy Oscard smoked for some moments in silence, then he took his pipe from his lips.

"The only pity is," he said judicially, "that you ever undertook to look for the simecine if you were going to funk it when the first difficulty arose."

Without further comment he walked away and entered into conversation with the captain of the steamer.

"All right," muttered Durnovo between his teeth—"all right, my sarcastic, grand gentleman. I'll be even with you yet."

In due time Misala was reached. As the canoes suitable for up river traffic were by no means sufficient to transport the whole of the expeditionary force in one journey, a division was made. Durnovo took charge of the advance column, journeying up to the camp from which the long march through the forest was to begin, and sending back the canoes for Oscard and the remainder of the force. With these canoes he sent back word that the hostile tribes were within a few days' march, and that he was fortifying his camp.

This news seemed to furnish Guy Oscard with food for considerable thought, and after some space of time he called Marie.

She came, and, standing before him with her patient dignity of mien, awaited his communication. She never took her eyes off the letter in his hand. Oscard noticed the persistency of her gaze at the time and remembered it again afterward.

"Marie," he said, "I have had rather serious news from Mr. Durnovo. It will not be safe for you to stay at Misala. You must take the children down to Loango. I will send two men down with you, and will give you a letter to Mrs. Gordon, who will see to your wants at Loango."

"Yes," said she softly, "I know." And she went into the house.

DIED SUDDENLY OF HEART DISEASE.

How frequently does a head line similar to the above greet us in the newspapers. The rush, push and strenuousness of the American epoch has strong tendency to bring on valvular and other affection of the heart, attended by irregular action, palpitation, dizziness, smothered sensations and other distressing symptoms.

Three of the prominent ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up are the following: the secret of the cure of just such cases as Golden Seal root, for instance, is said by the UNITED STATES DISPENSATORY, a standard authority, "to impart tone and increased power to the heart action." Numerous other medical authorities represent Golden Seal as an unsurpassed tonic for the muscular system in general, and as the heart is almost wholly composed of muscular tissue, it naturally follows that it must be greatly strengthened by this superb general tonic. But probably the most important ingredient of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, so far as is marvelous cures of valvular and other affections of the heart are concerned, is Stone root, or Collinsonia Canadensis. Prof. Wm. Paine, author of Paine's Epitome of Medicine, says of it:

"It is not long since that a patient who was

"...was very weak with disease of the heart that his friends were obliged to carry him up stairs. He, however, gradually recovered until the use of Collinsonia root, the principal extract from Stone root, and is now attending to his business. Heretofore physicians knew of no remedy for the heart so powerful as this root, so "...as to cure a malady. With them it was all guess-work, and it fearfully warned the afflicted that death was near at hand. Collinsonia unquestionably affords relief in these cases, and in most instances effects a complete cure."

Stone root is also recommended by Drs.

Hale and Ellingwood for Chorea and valvular and other diseases of the heart.

Dr. Ellingwood says: "It is a heart tonic of direct and permanent influence."

"Golden Medical Discovery," not only cures serious heart affections, but is a most efficient general tonic and invigorator, strengthening the stomach, invigorating the liver, regulating the bowels and curing catarrhal affections in all parts of the system.

WATER CONTRACT TO BE VOTED

ON AT THE NOVEMBER ELECTION

REPORT OF JOINT LIGHT AND WATER COMMITTEE ON NEW CONTRACT BETWEEN THE CITY OF PADUCAH AND THE PADUCAH WATER COMPANY.

Owing to the fact that the contract existing between the city of Paducah and the local water company for fire hydrants expires during the current month it was incumbent upon the general council to negotiate for such service covering the remaining period which the franchise of the water company still has to run, to-wit: eight years.

After several conferences between the joint light and water committee and the officers of the water company a scale of rates for fire hydrants was agreed upon by the committee and the water company. These rates have been embodied in a contract which will be submitted to the general council for such action as the wisdom of that body may determine.

If the proposed contract is favorably acted upon by the general council, it must be submitted to the votes of the city at the next election and affirmatively ratified by not less than two-thirds of the vote then cast upon the question before the contract between the city and the water company can be finally executed.

It should also be borne in mind that until a new contract is entered into between the city and the water company, that the rates charged under the existing contract will remain.

The only alternatives offered to escape from the old rates are either to make a new contract or to discontinue the service, the latter, of course, being quite impossible.

Therefore this committee has no hesitation in recommending to the general council and to the voters of the city of Paducah that the proposed contract be ratified.

Theatrical Notes

AT THE KENTUCKY.
Friday—Sylvia Linden in "Her Own Way."
Saturday, Matinee and Night—"Piff, Paff, Pouf."

Success of "Her Own Way." There is no surer way of measuring the success of a play than by the ticket office receipts. Clyde Fitch's greatest play, "Her Own Way," was kept on the boards in New York and London for an entire season. The sign "standing room only" was the rule and not the exception during these long runs. One of the greatest reasons for the play's lasting success is the human quality it possesses to an unusual degree. The play is human, the characters are human, the story is one that grips and holds one's attention from the first scene of the children at their birthday party to their finale after the arrival of Georgiana's soldier lover. The production will be seen at the Kentucky Friday night.

B. C. Whitney's "Piff, Paff, Pouf." "Bright, cheery, entrancing," is the description given by one of the eminent critics in an eastern paper which spoke of B. C. Whitney's "Piff, Paff, Pouf," to play here Saturday matinee and night.

"Piff, Paff, Pouf," held the fancy of New Yorkers two seasons ago for eight months or 286 performances at the Casino theater. The company this year is far superior to last season's, and the list of names looks well worth while: Henrietta Lee, Denman Maley, Emily Gardner, Charles P. Morrison, Olive Woolford, Charles M. Holly, Lulu McConnell, J. C. Kendall, Fannie Ide, Campbell McKinley, Lisle Bloodgood and others, including the original American pony ballet, an octette of pretty, clever dancing girls whose gingery capers go far to make the ensemble number stunning.

The special song features include the following success: I'm the Ghost That Never Walked, Little My Unkissed Man, Under the Goo-Goo Tree, Cordelia Malone, Dear Old Manhattan Isle, Dolly Dimple, Macaroni and others.

Zeb Jones won the money given away at The Kentucky Saturday night.
